

LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

Home Journals About Resources Books Film & Media Submit Blog Contact Q

Blog Covid-19

Home / Blog Covid-19

BLOG AND NEWS

Submit COVID-19 Blog Post

Latin American Perspectives would like to invite its readers, editors, and authors to submit short reflections and or photographs to our blog about how communities in Latin America and Latinx communities in the US are confronting the COVID-19 crisis.

SUBMIT

A pandemic state of exception: The role of the military in Honduras at the times of Covid-19

August 7th, 2020

Por Emilia Ziosi | Aug. 7, 2020

On March the 16th, 2020, Juan Orlando Hernández (JOH) – the current president of Honduras – declared a state of emergency in response to the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic. The extraordinary measures adopted have been broadly criticized as they undermine a range of civil rights, but mainly as they suspend several articles of the Honduran constitution (COFADEH, 2020). In this context, the Honduran Fuerzas Armadas – have been put in charge of maintaining social order, and human rights abuses reports didn't take long to emerge. With this in mind, this reflection briefly explores the role [...]

COVID-19 y la coexistencia con la vida silvestre: un debate necesario

August 6th, 2020

Por Mariela Díaz Sandoval | Aug. 6, 2020

Bastaron pocas semanas de confinamiento forzoso, provocado por la pandemia del COVID-19, para que los seres humanos nos sorprendiéramos ante el avistamiento inusual de ejemplares de la vida silvestre. A pesar de algunas fake news que circularon al respecto (ver video, 2020), llamó la atención un video que capturó a una ballena realizando majestuosos saltos en la Bahía de Acapulco. En el mismo sentido, distintas playas de México presenciaron bioluminiscencia, un proceso que se traduce en un bello resplandor color turquesa (Hernández, 2020), que remite a la extraordinaria Life of Pi, de Ang Lee, obra maestra donde, precisamente, se [...]

Read More >

El COVID-19 y las cárceles en México

June 25th, 2020

Por Alberto Espejel Espinoza | June 25, 2020

El objetivo de la reflexión es brindar un panorama general sobre la situación que guarda la población carcelaria frente al COVID-19 en México. Primero se discute la situación carcelaria, resaltando los problemas en su interior. En segundo lugar, se muestra la relación entre COVID-19 y penales en el caso mexicano.

Situación carcelaria en México

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: COVID-19 Blog

June 20th, 2020

June 20, 2020

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: COVID 19 Blog

Latin American Perspectives would like to invite its readers, editors and authors to submit short reflections and or photographs to our blog about how communities in Latin America and Latinx communities in the US are confronting the COVID-19 crisis. Blog posts should run between 200 to 1000 words and can be in English, Spanish or Portuguese.

En México, la población penitenciaria es un sector estigmatizado, que vive en condiciones indignas ante el olvido de los gobiernos estatales y federal durante varios sexenios (Documenta, 2016). Vale la pena resaltar que México es una sociedad de las más violentas [...]

Read More >

Please send your submissions to lap.outreach@gmail.com, subject "COVID-19 Blog"

While social distancing and quarantine protocols are necessary to the spread of the virus, we are witnessing ways in which these measures can also reinforce economic and [...]

LOAD MORE POSTS

Latin American Perspectives, founded in 1974, is a theoretical and scholarly journal for discussion and debate on the political economy of capitalism, imperialism, and socialism in the Americas. Most issues focus on a single problem, nation, or region, providing an in-depth look from participants and scholars throughout the Americas.

RECENT POSTS

- > Social Movements in Latin America: The Progressive Governments and Beyond Part 2
September 17, 2020
- > Paul Almeida's book GLOBAL STRUGGLES AND SOCIAL CHANGE
September 14, 2020
- > Political Report # 1451 Letter from Friar Neto to his friends from abroad
September 9, 2020
- > Political Report #1450 Walking the Tightrope: Latin America's Pink Tide
August 27, 2020

CATEGORIES

Select Category ▼

ARCHIVES

Select Month ▼

TESTIMONIAL

Alfredo Saad Filho – "SOAS, University of London"
"Latin American Perspectives is the most important resource available providing in-depth progressive analyses of developments in Latin America. It is the unmissable Journal!"

LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

Home Journals About Resources Books Film & Media

Submit Blog Contact

COVID-19 y la coexistencia con la vida silvestre: un debate necesario

Home / Covid19 / COVID-19 y la coexistencia con la vida silvestre: un debate necesario

< Previous Next >

BLOG

LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

COVID-19 y la coexistencia con la vida silvestre: un debate necesario

Por Mariela Díaz Sandoval | Aug. 6, 2020

Bastaron pocas semanas de confinamiento forzoso, provocado por la pandemia del COVID-19, para que los seres humanos nos sorprendiéramos ante el avistamiento inusual de ejemplares de la vida silvestre. A pesar de algunas fake news que circularon al respecto (Daly, 2020), llamó la atención un video que capturó a una ballena realizando majestuosos saltos en la Bahía de Acapulco. En el mismo sentido, distintas playas de México presenciaron bioluminiscencia, proceso que se traduce en un bello resplandor color turquesa (Heras, 2020), que remite a la extraordinaria Life of Pi, de Ang Lee, obra maestra donde,